

IC Named a Top-Ten Place to Work in the Federal Government

---

For the fourth consecutive year, the Intelligence Community (IC) was honored as one of the top-ten Best Places to Work in the federal government, according to an independent analysis of federal workers' job satisfaction and commitment.

The IC ranked second overall among large agencies, a category which includes 19 organizations, that employ more than 15,000 full-time permanent employees. Rankings were compiled by the Partnership for Public Service (PPS) and announced December 13, 2012 at a ceremony in Washington, D.C.

Stephanie O'Sullivan, the principal deputy director for national intelligence, accepted the award on behalf of the entire IC.