

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY NEWS RELEASE

Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community Completes Review of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence’s Fiscal Year 2018 Compliance with the Improper Payments Elimination and Recovery Act of 2010

(May 2019) The Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community recently completed its review of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence’s (ODNI’s) Fiscal Year (FY) 2018 compliance with the Improper Payments Elimination and Recovery Act of 2010 (IPERA) (AUD-2019-006).

IPERA directs agencies to perform risk assessments of programs and activities to identify those that may be susceptible to significant improper payments. An improper payment is any payment that should not have been made; was a duplicate payment; did not include a credit for applicable discounts; or was in the incorrect amount, to an ineligible recipient, for an ineligible service, or for services not received. When an agency identifies a program or activity that is susceptible to significant improper payments, the agency must estimate the amount of improper payments, and report the estimates, actions taken to reduce improper payments, and improper payment rates of each program or activity. IPERA also directs agencies to conduct recovery audits—also known as payment recapture audits—for each program and activity that expends $1 million or more annually, if conducting such audits would be cost effective.

The ICIG’s review determined that ODNI complied with IPERA In FY 2018. ODNI tested payment controls and determined that none of its programs and activities were susceptible to significant improper payments as defined by the Office of Management and Budget. Based on this determination, ODNI was not required to prepare or report improper payment estimates, corrective action plans, reduction targets, or improper payment rates for its programs and activities. As required by IPERA, ODNI supported its determination that conducting payment recapture audits would not be cost effective.

The Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 established the Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community within the Office of the Director of National Intelligence. The ICIG’s mission is to provide independent and objective oversight of the programs and activities within the responsibility and authority of the Director of National Intelligence, to initiate and conduct independent audits, inspections, investigations, and reviews, and to lead and coordinate the efforts of the Intelligence Community Inspectors General Forum. The ICIG’s goal is to have a positive and enduring impact throughout the Intelligence Community, to lead and coordinate the efforts of an integrated Intelligence Community Inspectors General Forum, and to enhance the ability of the United States Intelligence Community to meet national security needs while respecting our nation’s laws and reflecting its values. The Forum consists of the twelve statutory and administrative Inspectors General having oversight responsibility for an element of the Intelligence Community. The Chair of the Forum is the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community.
