NEWS RELEASE

Evaluation of the Intelligence Community Elements' Use of Space Certified as a Sensitive Compartmented Information Facility in the Continental United States

(March 2024) The Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community (IC IG) completed an evaluation pursuant to section 6607 of the Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2023 (division F of Public Law 117–263) on the utilization of space owned or sponsored by an Intelligence Community (IC) element, located in the continental United States, that is certified as a sensitive compartmented information facility under IC or Department of Defense policy.

The IC IG provided a report summarizing the results of the evaluation to the appropriate congressional intelligence committees and the Director of National Intelligence. This evaluation made one recommendation.
