Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community Recognizes National Compliance Officer Day

(October 2021) The Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community (IC IG) engaged the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) workforce with a National Compliance Officer Day event on September 29, 2021. The outreach program was held at ODNI Headquarters in McLean, Virginia, and the Intelligence Community Campus, Bethesda, Maryland.

National Compliance Day honors the contributions of those who are committed to the profession of combating waste, fraud, abuse, and violations of laws and regulations. Each year, professionals who have dedicated their careers to the fields of ethics, compliance, and responding to allegations of misconduct are acknowledged for their contributions to upholding the law and providing an avenue to report wrongdoing.

The event highlighted the importance of reporting suspected fraud, waste, and abuse, and provided an overview of the IC IG Center for Protected Disclosures. Current IC IG professional opportunities and resource materials to advise the workforce on how to contact the IC IG Hotline were also available.
