- E. Assist with the development of training and awareness materials.
- F. Reviewing and discussing the OPSEC program plan on a regular basis.
- G. Assisting with OPSEC analysis and self-assessments of OPSEC program
- H. Ensuring that suggested countermeasures to mitigate identified vulnerabilities are sufficient, workable, and implemented within the {organization}.

- I. Sharing and disseminating OPSEC awareness briefings and materials to the member's respective areas.
- J. Ensuring all OPSEC Working Group members receive appropriate training and/or OPSEC awareness information.

[Training Recommendation: At minimum, OPSEC Working Group members should complete OPSE-1301: OPSEC Fundamentals or an equivalent. Additional training requirements may be directed based on current situations, significant threat changes, or mission needs. Training deadlines should be established to ensure compliance (e.g. 90 days after appointment to OPSEC Working Group). The Interagency OPSEC Support Staff recommends OPSE-1500: OPSEC & Public Release Decisions, OPSE-2380: OPSEC Analysis, and OPSE-3500: OPSEC & Internet-based Capabilities for OPSEC Working Group Members. Working Group Members that will have an active role in the administration of an OPSEC program may benefit from attending OPSE-2390: Program Management.]

V. Membership & Roles

[Section Guidance: This section can be used to identify how members are selected, determine who should be represented, establish member commitments, define term limits, and list the roles required (Chair, Scribe, Member, etc.). The overall makeup of an OPSEC Working Group may depend on the organization's structure, mission, and projects. Members of the Working Group should represent the functional elements of the organization and/or mission, consisting of representatives from various programs and facilities at the organization. Working Group Members should have a basic understanding of the OPSEC Cycle and be able to support OPSEC analysis. A Working Group Charter should include an expected time commitment from members.]

[Role Examples: The Working Group Chair is generally responsible for making sure that meetings are planned effectively, efforts are conducted according to the charter, matters are dealt with in an efficient manner, and that engagements are facilitated. A Working Group Scribe is usually directed to record all decisions, actions and issues noted by the Working Group during meetings for accountability, recognition, follow-up.]
