Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Perform the editorial review, formatting, layout, and publishing of daily and periodic publications of a technical or general nature; edit, create, process, and coordinate the composition of complex text and graphics products for senior government officials in the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI), the Intelligence Community (IC), and law enforcement organizations; adhere to established technical production and quality control standards and guidelines.
- Brief customers and team on any aspect of the publications discipline; facilitate senior-level and customer product reviews and accurately incorporate reviewing comments into the final product.
- Apply strong knowledge of grammar, punctuation, corporate writing standards, and substantive matters in leading discussions to identify and resolve editorial issues and inconsistencies in complex text and graphics; mentor junior employees.
- Produce and disseminate finished products via hardcopy and/or electronic means and archive digital files after delivery of products; analyze, verify, and manipulate data to maintain unit's databases.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Thorough understanding of publishing principles and practices as well as thorough knowledge of sound principles of publication design; ability to manage multiple and increasingly complex publication projects.
- Demonstrated editorial and grammatical skills as well as an understanding of corporate writing standards, including classification regulations; ability to apply policies, procedures, and guidelines to publication products.
- Demonstrated skill in writing logically, clearly, and concisely; communication and negotiation skills for eliciting and sharing information; ability to brief team members and customers to discuss project requirements and status.
- Demonstrated ability to work effectively and efficiently within a diverse, creative, and sometimes fast-paced project team environment and to efficiently manage time.
• Interpersonal skills to interact effectively with customers, technical staff, and project team members; and the ability to mentor junior employees.

Desired Requirements
• Ability to perform research, utilize creative problem solving, and apply analytical thinking skills to identify and develop effective solutions for routine and more complex publishing problems.
• Experience using Adobe Creative Suite, content management systems, and web publishing software.
• Education: A bachelor's degree in English, Communication, Journalism or other related field.
• Experience: Three years of professional experience as a publications officer or in a closely related field.
