- A current Federal Government employee, selected for a detail, will be assigned to the position at his or her current grade and salary.

Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- The Directorate of Terrorist Identity is looking for an identity intelligence (I2) analyst to produce identity comparative analysis reporting and data correlation under guidelines and procedures established by the I2 and government leads. They will conduct thorough identity exploitation of media, to include detecting, extracting, adjudicating and preparing identity attributes for dissemination to the national database. Analyst will maintain thorough understanding of all tools/systems used for identity exploitation of biometric and non-biometric identity attributes. They will also provide input to weekly staff meetings and briefings on exploitation progress, and routinely interact with interagency partners on products and support services.
- Develop process flows for branch and group in order to refine workflows.
- Engage with customers to understand and anticipate changing needs and requirements; offer recommendations for resolution based on analysis.
- Author, review, and provide quality control of case notes and reports detailing findings of analysis, examinations, and conclusions.
- Provide training and mentorship to both contractor and USG personnel on process improvement.
- Use TIDE and support services, as required, to properly preserve, enhance, and archive digital images.
- Analyze numerous, complex, and diverse data sets

- Ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements; basic ability to support group decisions, accept and incorporate feedback, and solicit opinions from co-workers.
- Manage special projects, as assigned.
- Thorough knowledge of IC organizations, policies, and procedures, and their requirements with regard to terrorist identities intelligence research and analysis.
- Ability to communicate clearly, both orally and in writing.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Thorough knowledge of terrorist identities analysis coupled with extensive knowledge of associated databases and watchlisting procedures.
- Ability to logically analyze, synthesize, and judge information as well as the ability to review and incorporate multiple sources of information in performing assignments.
- Ability to develop effective professional and interpersonal relationships with peers and colleagues in the ODNI, the IC, and USG, and to earn their confidence and trust.
- Interpersonal, organizational, and problem solving skills, including an ability to work effectively at a senior level within an interagency environment on complex issues requiring negotiation and consensus building.
- Thorough knowledge of the mission, charter, roles, and responsibilities of the ODNI, IC, and USG agencies, and how these organizations can effectively integrate their terrorist identities analysis capabilities.

Desired Requirements

- Ability to lead, participate and implement new projects.
- Ability to work under pressure with strict deadlines while maintaining a high level of attention to detail.
