Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

The National Counterterrorism Center's Directorate of Intelligence (NCTC/DI) requires an analyst for the Africa Division (AD) within the Africa, Asia, and Europe (A2E) Group. This unit is focused on identifying unique insights leveraging all-source analysis to help policymakers combat terrorism. AD is seeking a motivated analyst at the full performance level who is committed to driving policy understanding through sophisticated intelligence analysis.

AD has an expansive mission that requires a rigorous approach to analysis and collaboration across the IC. A2E has been at the forefront of NCTC's efforts to develop data-driven network analysis to identify unique analytic insights, while continuing to provide the highest quality strategic analysis on CT Topics.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

Develop and produce a broad range of finished intelligence products in support of United States (US) foreign policy and national security interests.

Drive the IC's understanding of key CT issues across Africa, by writing tactical and strategic analytic products.

Capitalize on NCTC's unique access to data and tools to perform multi-methods analysis.

Prepare and present written and oral briefings to senior internal and external customers.

Prepare ODNI and NCTC senior leaders to represent the IC's view in policy discussions.

Engage frequently with customers and stakeholders to ensure NCTC's products are timely and relevant.

Continue to build your area of expertise and writing and critical thinking skills through ongoing training.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

Strong analytic and critical thinking skills, including the ability to think strategically.

Demonstrated knowledge of written tradecraft and a track record of producing written products that are clear, concise, and well-organized. Ability to effectively express thoughts verbally and deliver engaging, informative briefings, often under tight deadlines.

Strong interpersonal skills, including an ability to collaborate with others to complete tasks.

Demonstrated ability to remain open-minded and change opinions based on new information and requirements; ability to find creative solutions to tough analytic problems.

Ability to perform multiple tasks.

Knowledge of US policy and national security issues.

Desired Requirements

Prior work experience or advanced academic study on counterterrorism issues, Africa, or foreign terrorist organization. Experience with network development and targeting tradecraft.

Knowledge of USG policies in Africa.
