Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

The National Counterterrorism Center’s Directorate of Intelligence is looking for a talented graphic designer to produce visual products that convey intelligence analysis for US policymakers, law enforcement officials, warfighters, and executives charged with national security responsibilities, including the President of the United States.

- A visual graphics designer at this level is responsible for planning and developing visual solutions for conveyance via a wide variety for formats and dissemination outputs, including mobile devices, web, and print.

- Graphic designers are responsible for a wide-range of routine-to-complex projects including: charts and graphs, timelines, infographics, presentation visuals, illustrations, publication design, cover designs, brochures, posters, logos, etc. Opportunities exist to participate in internal training as well as external workshops and conferences.

- Leading project teams, defining project requirements, producing concepts for customer review, and producing final artwork, among other things.

- The graphic designer will serve as the senior technical/creative resource for assigned team projects, provide alternative approaches and mediums for consideration, review concepts and final artwork, and recommend or incorporate revisions for team projects to ensure adherence to technical production and quality control standards.

- Conceptualizing, designing and producing visual solutions for a wide variety of formats and dissemination outputs.

- Graphic designers work as part of an interdisciplinary team managing multiple design projects under minimal supervision.

- Graphic designers work with their customers to define project requirements and provide advice on best processes and procedures for optimal visual presentation.
• Graphic designers are expected to develop and maintain their skills commensurate with industry-wide best practices.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

• Extensive knowledge of Adobe creative tools (InDesign, Illustrator, Photoshop, etc.) is required.

• Familiarity with digital conveyance, comprehensive knowledge of graphic design principles and production methods, and demonstrated ability to utilize innovative and creative problem solving and analytical thinking skills to organize, clarify, and enhance alternative approaches to develop highly effective graphic design solutions.

• Must have an aptitude to learn and apply new graphic design techniques and technologies.

• Ability to work effectively and efficiently within a diverse, creative, and often fast-paced project team environment and to efficiently manage time, technical, and administrative resources.

• Applicants must provide a portfolio that demonstrates the ability to utilize innovative and creative problem solving and analytical thinking skills to develop, organize, clarify, and enhance alternative approaches to the most sophisticated multimedia requirements.

Desired Requirements

• At least two years of experience as a graphic designer at an IC agency.

• A bachelor's degree in graphic design or fine arts with a strong emphasis on graphic design.
