Component Mission

The Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) Deputy Director of Mission Integration (MI) serves as the Director of National Intelligence's (DNI) senior leader for intelligence integration across the IC enterprise. MI is responsible for ensuring customer outcomes by leading advances in collection and analysis that ensure the quality, timeliness, and utility of insights for the nation's decision-makers. Additionally, MI is responsible for increasing expertise and improving tradecraft at all levels through specialization, integration, and collaboration. MI is responsible for the strategic vision, direction, and planning to deliver a more integrated IC reflecting the collective wisdom of our collection and analytic components to advance, in support of the National Intelligence Managers, the Unifying Intelligence Strategies (UIS).

The NIC Tradecraft Team is seeking a creative, collaborative, and energetic officer with exceptional communication and critical thinking skills to help produce the IC's foremost strategic analysis. Work closely with NIC officers in a team environment from initial conceptualization to final evaluation of products, promoting expert application of IC analytic tradecraft, and focusing on all aspects of analytic tradecraft and presentation. Serve as a NIC-wide resource and key part of the NIC production team by consulting on and facilitating the use of structured analytic and problem-solving techniques to address a wide range of intelligence challenges. Cooperate with NIOs to ensure exemplary analytic tradecraft in NIC products for the President, National Security Council, Congress, and other key stakeholders.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Provide guidance to the planning, analysis, and application of a full-range of methodological tools and approaches to gain a comprehensive understanding of complex analytical issues and incorporate insights and findings into well-crafted, in-depth intelligence products.
- Develop, utilize, and refine a full range of methodological tools, data, and approaches to help NIC officers gain a comprehensive understanding of complex and significant analytic issues and incorporate insights and findings into well-crafted, sophisticated intelligence products.
- Lead collaborative exercises that identify critical intelligence gaps and initiate, develop, and implement anticipatory intelligence strategies and mitigation initiatives to address gaps and shortfalls in collection and analytic capabilities across the USG.
- Lead, plan, direct, and coordinate the preparation of anticipatory and strategic warning approaches and analysis that supports key US national security and foreign policy objectives and helps shape IC analysis and priorities.
- Aid in the weekly evaluation of analytic products post-production. Assess and brief trends in analytic production metrics and propose methods for overcoming areas for improvement. Provide timely feedback to NIOs on analytic production.
- Aid in the development and implementation of strategies for using methodological tools and data for gathering intelligence or other information in support of US interests and policy objectives; cultivate and identify key internal and external sources of relevant information that meet customer and self-derived needs.
- Lead, initiate, cultivate, and maintain productive working relationships with colleagues, experts, IC members, policy committees, and law enforcement agencies as appropriate and use these relationships to share information of interest; attend internal and external training, seminars, or conferences on broad or more strategic subject areas.
- Build and leverage diverse collaborative networks within the ODNI and across the IC.
• Aid, coordinate, lead, and communicate comprehensive, sophisticated, and current analyses of complex and significant national, regional, and/or global issues for senior policymakers and key components in the Intelligence Community (IC), law enforcement, and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI).
• An Analytic Methodologist in the NIC will work directly with the NIOs and Deputy NIOs to improve analytic collaboration on data analysis and advanced analytic techniques.
• Build and leverage diverse collaborative networks within the ODNI and across the IC.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements
• Extensive knowledge in analytic tradecraft and/or analytic methodology.
• Demonstrated ability to lead and promote the development and use of a broad range of methodological tools and approaches to research, analyze, and present data (modeling, link analysis, or software).
• Superior ability to apply expert knowledge of ODNI, IC organizations, and relevant customer organizations or operations (e.g., military, policymakers, and law enforcement), in order to effectively translate their requirements and provide appropriate output or responses to meet customer needs.
• Superior knowledge of IC policy and procedures and demonstrated knowledge of analytic tradecraft and superior ability to communicate intelligence information and judgments to generalists as well as specialists.
• Demonstrated ability to produce analytic finished intelligence related to the subject matter issue, either as lead analyst or manager of analysts, and broad knowledge of the role of intelligence analysis within the IC.
• Demonstrated ability to maintain and develop regular contacts within the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) and the IC for exchanging information.
• Superior levels of flexibility and superior ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements; superior ability to support group decisions and solicit opinions from coworkers.
• Superior and recognized analytic and critical thinking skills, including superior ability to think strategically.
• Demonstrated ability to execute senior-level guidance in a fast paced environment and superior ability to translate strategic goals into specific objectives with appropriate metrics and methods to track progress towards meeting those goals.
• Superior interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, in working with individuals at the highest levels of the IC and government in justifying, defending, negotiating, and resolving significant and controversial issues.
• Superior ability to work effectively both independently and in a team or collaborative environment, and mentor junior colleagues.
• Creative problem-solving skills and superior ability to provide leadership in carrying out mission responsibilities.
