Component Mission:

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs):

This position is part of the Directorate of Identity Intelligence (DII) Team responsible for identity resolution and screening. These individuals will be responsible for screening and vetting individuals traveling to the U.S. by reviewing travelers' information against Terrorist Identity Datamart Environment (TIDE) and other IC databases. In this capacity, analysts generate leads for screeners, investigators, collectors, and operational elements regarding previously undetected links between U.S.-bound foreign travelers and terrorism-associated people and data as well as terrorists using non-watch listed names and aliases, or whose watch listed records lack sufficient identifiers. Duties include:

- Perform analysis and research to identify and use appropriate tools and screening/vetting tradecraft to evaluate, analyze, and integrate relevant identity information in order to identify links to terrorism.
- Perform in-depth all-source research and analysis for specifically defined targets; conduct targeted analysis of known and unknown terrorist personalities, groups and networks in order to reveal identity attributes for future analytical and watchlisting purposes. Present findings as appropriate via written products, graphic presentations or oral briefings.
- Develop an understanding of and utilize a variety of methodological tools and approaches to gain a comprehensive understanding of known or suspected terrorists (KSTs), including as appropriate, social networking and other "new" media; incorporate policies, strategies, tactics, techniques, procedures and mechanisms to reveal the true identity of individuals, personas, or groups by analyzing and exploiting data related to sets of specific identity attributes to build the most comprehensive terrorist identity record available to the USG.

- Resolve target identities through the integration of biographic, biometric, contextual and behavioral information.
- Identify, gather, and extract Identity Intelligence information and perform relational tracing to determine relationships, patterns, trends, indicators and warnings that address intelligence gaps.
- Provide recommendations, feedback and evaluation on screening and analytical processes, policy and procedures.
- The ability to communicate ideas clearly and concisely; demonstrate the ability to prepare written materials that are clear, organized, and concise.
- Establish, maintain and facilitate internal and external networks, to include: counterparts, customers, and stakeholders across the USG, collaborating across boundaries, sharing information as appropriate and build effective relationships that enhance the quality of results.
- Provide mission voice to IT requirements and internal policies and procedures, working in partnership across the CT community to identify ways to maximize efficiencies in the screening and vetting process.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements:

- Thorough knowledge of terrorist identities, analysis, compilation, and dissemination, coupled with extensive knowledge of associated databases and identity targeting processes.
- Thorough knowledge of traditional and non-traditional information resources, particularly current or projected collection systems and data sources for analysis; basic knowledge of selected analytic tools (link analysis, data integration, geographic information systems).
- Ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements; basic ability to support group decisions, accept and incorporate feedback, and solicit opinions from coworkers.
- Thorough knowledge of IC organizations, policies, and procedures, and their requirements with regard to terrorist identities intelligence research and analysis.
- Thorough knowledge of the mission, charter, roles, and responsibilities of the ODNI, IC, and USG agencies, and how these organizations can effectively integrate their terrorist identities analysis capabilities.

- Ability to communicate clearly, both orally and in writing.
- Ability to research and logically analyze, synthesize, and judge information, as well as the ability to review and incorporate multiple sources of information in performing assignments.
- Interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, including an ability to work effectively within an interagency environment on complex issues requiring negotiation and consensus-building.
