Component Mission:

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities:

This position is part of the Directorate of Identity Intelligence (DII) Team responsible for analyzing all sources of intelligence reporting and data, maintaining the central and shared databases of terrorist identities, and promoting effective sharing of terrorist identity information and analysis within the Federal Government and with non-Federal partners. Also, it is important to note that the selected candidates could be assigned to various offices within DII. Duties include:

- Perform in-depth all-source research and analysis, using both traditional and non-traditional classified and unclassified sources of intelligence; identify key individuals, organizations, and components that collectively make up a functional network for analytic lead, screening, and watchlisting purposes. Present findings as appropriate via written products, graphic presentations, or oral briefings.
- Develop an understanding of and utilize a variety of methodological and data-driven tools and approaches to gain a comprehensive understanding of known or suspected terrorists (KSTs); incorporate policies, strategies, and both qualitative and quantitative methods to reveal the true identity and attributes of individuals, personas, or groups to build the most comprehensive terrorist identity profiles and databases available to the USG.
- Identify and anticipate trends in the activities and relationships among entities in the network; identify and prioritize intelligence gaps and determine and drive the appropriate collection actions needed; leverage intelligence information collected as a result of operational and investigative actions.
- Identify the relative role and importance of the various nodes of and relationships within network(s) that are associated with national security interests and prioritize entities against which potential actions might be taken to collect intelligence or otherwise support policy objectives; assess potential weaknesses and exploitable vulnerabilities of nodes and linkages within networks of interest to the Intelligence Community (IC).

-- Establish and maintain effective working relationships with counterparts in the CT, Intelligence, and Law Enforcement Communities to support NCTC mission requirements and analytic undertakings and to promote intelligence integration and sharing.

Mandatory Requirements:

-- Knowledge of traditional and nontraditional information resources, particularly current or projected collection systems and data sources for analysis; basic knowledge of selected analytic tools (link analysis, data integration, geographic information systems).

-- Ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements; basic ability to support group decisions, accept and incorporate feedback, and solicit opinions from coworkers.

-- Knowledge of IC organizations, policies, and procedures, and their requirements with regard to terrorist identities intelligence research and analysis.

-- Demonstrated ability to communicate clearly, both orally and in writing.

-- Demonstrated ability to research and logically analyze, synthesize, and judge information, as well as the ability to review and incorporate multiple sources of information in performing assignments.

-- Interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, including a demonstrated ability to work effectively within an interagency environment on complex issues requiring negotiation and consensus-building.

-- Demonstrated ability to work under pressure with strict deadlines while maintaining a high level of attention to detail.

-- Experience with quality control, quality assurance, auditing, and/or data integrity efforts.

-- Experience with drafting and implementing policies.
