- A current Federal Government employee, selected for a detail, will be assigned to the position at his or her current grade and salary.

Component Mission

The mission of the National Counterintelligence & Security Center is to lead and support the U.S. Government’s counterintelligence (CI) and security activities critical to protecting our nation; provide CI outreach to U.S. private sector entities at risk of foreign intelligence penetration; and issue public warnings regarding intelligence threats to the U.S.

Office Mission

The Center for Security Evaluation (CSE) represents the Intelligence Community (IC) in protecting national security equities against counterintelligence and security threats to diplomatic missions abroad and other U.S. government facilities worldwide. CSE provides continuous collaboration with the Department of State (DoS) and the IC for the planning, design, construction, and operation of diplomatic facilities abroad to ensure they meet certification standards and to protect our national security information and personnel. CSE conducts assessments of technical, physical, and information security vulnerabilities and develops emerging technologies to improve security countermeasures. In addition, CSE provides technical, analytic, and policy guidance and advocates for national Technical Surveillance Countermeasure (TSCM) resources and the policy for implementing wireless technology in a secure environment.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Plan, develop, and implement strategies for facilitating the thorough and expeditious review of information from a wide range of intelligence sources and disciplines for accuracy, deception, relevance, and timeliness, and evaluate for inclusion in specific intelligence reports.

- Plan, research, develop, and produce daily intelligence reports that provide all-source, multi-agency intelligence and situational awareness support by summarizing threats to the U.S. and its interests worldwide.

- Plan, implement, and develop improvements to methodologies, processes, and procedures that will result in an improvement to the quality of intelligence reports and increased efficiency of production.

- Plan, direct, and coordinate the sharing of intelligence reports and information with Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) leadership, senior policymakers, Intelligence Community (IC) and Department of Defense (DoD) partners, Department of State partners, and other intelligence consumers in a manner that meets their specified requirements.
• Plan and promote the sharing of information and knowledge from intelligence reports by effectively recognizing, valuing, building, and leveraging diverse and collaborative networks within ODNI and across the IC.

• Develop and continually expand personal expertise on a full range of current intelligence and policy issues and achieve a government-wide reputation as a subject matter expert on the information contained in intelligence reports as well as the production and distribution of this information.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

• Demonstrated critical thinking skills, ability to plan, research, produce, and edit high-quality, complex intelligence reports, projects, assignments, and briefings.

• Demonstrated ability to identify errors or inconsistencies in individual submissions to intelligence reports and rectify using the body of all source intelligence

• Extensive knowledge of the specific information requirements of a wide range of customers (ODNI leadership, senior policymakers, IC and DoD partners, DoS partners, and other intelligence consumers) and the ability to customize intelligence reports to meet their requirements.

• Extensive knowledge of the ODNI, NCSC, and the larger IC mission, operations, tradecraft, capabilities, and requirements.

• Demonstrated ability to exercise independent judgment on time-sensitive issues, perform multiple tasks and assignments, and change focus quickly as demands change.

• Demonstrated interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, including a demonstrated ability to work effectively both independently and in a team or collaborative environment.

• Demonstrated ability to apply and/or adapt existing tools and methods to improve and develop efficiencies in workflow processes, and improve the quality and value of analytic output.

• Excellent interpersonal, organization, and oral and written communication skills, to include interviewing and briefing.

Desired Requirements

• Ability to manage competing priorities and interests related to sensitive and complex issues.
