

(Full translation of video)

Praise be to God who has demanded justice and benevolence and forbade tyranny and aggression.

Moreover,

O American people, peace be with those of you who follow the right guidance. The subject of my talk is the despotism of Big Money and its role in the current wars between us.

I begin by reminding you that if you had reflected on a little of what has been said, you would have been able to avoid wasting much blood and money.

A good example is what one of your former presidents previously warned you about with the despotism of the Big Money and about a day when you would become its laborers.